All French Gold Returned by U. S.

American Dollar Is Unshaken When "Called" by Europe

NEW YORK.—(AP)—An important phase of the redistribution of the world's monetary gold stocks was completed Tuesday, as nearly $50,000,000 in gold was set aside for the account of the Bank of France at the New York Federal Reserve bank. This, it was said in banking quarters, virtually would complete the transfer of the Bank of France's balances here into gold to be returned home.

The United States has disgorged about $1,100,000,000 in monetary gold since September, and leading bankers asserted that the manner in which this had been accomplished, without creating a ripple in the American money market, was probably a feat without parallel in banking history and should end completely any uncertainty over the strength of the American dollar, either at home or abroad.

The monetary gold stocks in this country have been reduced from a peak of $5,015,000,000, reached September 16, to a current level of about $3,900,000,000, which is approximately that of 1923.

Candidate for Senate at Washington at 4 P. M. Same Day

IN NORTH COUNTIES

resumed his campaign at Stuttgart May 28.

Referring to his recent trip through Northwest Arkansas, which is conceded as "enemy territory," Bodenhamer said, "I am more than pleased with the reception I have been given."

New Gas Tax Goes in Effect June 21

Brokers "Loading Up" to Escape One-Cent Federal Levy

TULSA, Okla.—(AP)—After waging an unsuccessful fight against a federal gasoline tax, the Mid-Continent oil area is in confusion over the outcome of the new measure, part of the emergency revenue bill, which becomes effective June 21.

An interpretation from Washington is expected soon, but until it comes, there will be uncertainty over the new law.

Prior to its enactment earlier in the week, oil men generally fought any idea of an additional levy on crude oil products, on the contention that state and municipal taxes already effective make motor fuel one of the most highly taxed commodities in use. Now that the battle has proved unavailing, most oil men are worrying over whether the 15 days of grace allowed will permit evasion of the tax through loading up storage facilities available.

Since the law, providing a one-cent tax on motor fuel, was signed by President Hoover, the refiners of the mid-continent have been swamped with orders. The movement is out of proportion to the seasonal demand.

Most of the orders are coming from brokers, jobbers and contract customers, who are under agreement to take a specified amount, between limits, periodically.

By the language of the bill the tax must be paid to the government by the "producer," which is defined as

15-Minute Demonstration for President Wednesday Morning

SNELL SETS IT OFF

Illinois Seeks Dawes for Vice-President—Dawes Says "No"

CHICAGO.—(AP)—The administration's compromise prohibition repeal mission plank got through the Republican resolutions sub-committee Wednesday morning, and party leaders immediately launched an unprecedented drive for convention approval.

It is not repeal, said one leader.

A Pennsylvania plank calling for prompt resubmission of the prohibition question by congress to the states and demanding a substitute amendment giving congress the right to regulate the manufacture, sale and transportation of liquor, was the basis of the plank accepted by the sub-committee.

CHICAGO STADIUM.—(AP)—Taking up the quickest of the real convention show at last, the Republicans Wednesday morning and about 10:15 a. m. adopted without a murmur the administration-backed report of the credentials committee, and got ahead with affairs with dispatch, showing that the president and his friends are firmly at the helm.

A tribute to the permanent chairman got off the noise and disorder of delegates from every state, circles the arena cheering, and a great pipe organ pealed out the strains of "California Here I Come."

Governor Rolph, of California, led the parade which started when Snell declared the president "one man in America who has furnished leadership in this great crisis." Mr. Snell continued: "The Democratic party is fatally weak because it is utterly lacking in team work."

The convention recessed at 1:10 p. m. to await the all-important report from the platform committee.

It was to convene at 8 Wednesday night.

It's the Motorist Who Pays---and Pays!

Four Provisions in Tax Bill Hit Car Drivers

By NEA Service
WASHINGTON, D. C.—In addition to sharing in 30-odd other forms of taxes incorporated in the current tax bill to appropriate $1,119,000,000 to help balance the budget, the poor motorist, is made the object of four tax blows which are designed to relieve him of from $273,000,000 to $275,000,000.

Based as he is with state and government taxes, license fees, gasoline taxes, personal property taxes, and a few other odd burdens, poor John H. Driver must pay, according to the new excise tax levies which go into effect June 20, an additional tax on his car and accessories, on the gas and oil he uses, and on the tires he buys.

In gasoline, and registration fees alone last year, motorists of the country paid $81,000,000 in taxes. The largest revenue item of the tax bill this year is aimed at gasoline and a 1-cent tax on each gallon is expected to bring a revenue of about $150,000,000.

More Than Asked For
Considering gasoline consumption last year, however, this amount should be increased by more than $14,000,000, as consumption in 1931 reached 16,435,628,000 gallons.

The second largest item in the tax bill directly concerning motorists is that which provided a tax of 3 per cent on automobiles, 2 per cent on trucks, and 2 per cent on accessories.

Checking on last year's figures, we

The above sketch shows the amount of revenue expected to be realized through taxation of automotive products in the current budget balancing tax bill.

Autos, Tires and Gas May Bring $273,000,000

find that the average value of the 2,038,180 passenger cars sold was $765. Presuming that that number of cars will be sold this year, the revenue realized from this source would reach more than $46,878,000.

The average value of trucks sold last year was $824, and 434,168 of these units were purchased. Figuring a 2 per cent tax on these motor vehicles will bring a tax revenue of about $6,939,000. The remainder of the $55,000,000 expected to be realized from this group's taxation will come from the 2 per cent levy on accessories.

Hard on the Tires
In considering a tax on tires, provisions having been made for 2 1/2 cents a pound, owners of larger cars will be hit harder than those operating small cars in the $33,000,000 to be realized from this taxation. There are approximately 30 different sizes of passenger car tires. Weights of these run from 14 to 38 pounds. The average weight of these tires, considering the predominance of smaller sizes sold runs about 22 pounds. Weights of truck tires range from 50 to 150 pounds.

It Goes for Both of Them

WE have no quarrel with Judge A. B. Priddy, candidate for governor who spoke here Monday night. Judge Priddy is a man of force and courage and might be a good governor—but he made one statement Monday night which illustrates how differently the politician approaches a problem as compared to a newspaper.

The candidate said that the county judges association put a tax law through the legislature to build farm-to-market roads, and then, after the State Highway Department had squandered all its own funds it wanted to take away the judges' "turnback."

The actual truth is that the county judges association and the highway department were in a conspiracy for joint action in the legislature, and both squandered their funds so that one couldn't have robbed the other if they had wanted to.

We have proof of this in the admitted financial distress of the highway department, and in the fact that where the department sought to take away the judges' "turnback" the judges said they had so far anticipated these revenues that to lose them now would mean bankruptcy for the counties.

You read that statement in The Star and all the other newspapers last winter. It was made at the same meeting in Little Rock at which Judge L. F. Higginson got up and pleaded for the newspapers to "lay off" the turnback scandal.

Now Judge Priddy, after all, wants to be elected governor—and while it's good politics to attack scandal at Little Rock, it isn't such good politics to attack scandal right here at home.

So he slams the highway department and weeps on the shoulders of the county judges, who, however, are husky enough fellows that they ought not to need any sympathy from a mere gubernatorial candidate. What's a gubernatorial candidate in the life of men who are able to form a secret lobby covering seventy-five counties and force taxes up in a panic year to pay their own increased salaries? Such pure genius can't waste its time around a governor's office.

In Little Rock a taxpayer has stopped Dwight Blackwood from using the tax money to hire "weed cutters" in his campaign for governor—but the county judges, who never have any passable roads in the winter-time, go right ahead using tax money to employ political workers in June and July in the name of good roads.

"In the name of good roads"—the greatest slander ever perpetrated upon progress. What roads? The Star has shown you that after all due allowance for the increase in state highway taxation, the Hempstead county judge has doubled the cost of maintaining our country local roads, and they are more badly maintained today than in years past.

This is June. You see road men at work. That's because it's election-time. Back in December and January it was the same old story that every winter tells—of road money thrown into the gutter of political scheming and incompetence.

Had Judge Priddy wanted to tell all of the story he would have said that the original farm-to-market road program called for turning gasoline tax money over to a county highway commission, taking it out of the hands of the politically-minded county judges. But the judges would have none of this. They penalized December and January because the campaign comes in June and July.

Samuel Insull and His Downfall

FEDERAL Judge Walter C. Lindsay of Illinois has ordered a complete audit and history, showing every transaction, every payment of money and every transfer of stock of the Insull Utilities Investments, Inc. This is the billion dollar investment trust that Samuel Insull organized to deal in securities of his operating concerns and thus insure Insull control of the company.

Judge Lindsay advised that if personal liability on the part of directors and officers of the company is disclosed then civil action should be taken to recover from them such funds as could be obtained.

Facing the stockholders of the concern, this erstwhile king of public utilities who came to this land of the free an immigrant boy and who has passed his seventy second milestone, made this declaration, "I did my best and I did it honestly. No one in this room has suffered in pocket book and reputation as I have."

Yes, advocates of socking it to the rich are reminded that hundreds of men who were millionaires or rated as billionaires before the crash of 1929 are in their graves or are broken in purse and pride. Indeed, their number is legion who risked and lost all. In the wake of the crash they battled to keep their heads above the water. They fought heroically, then they were swept away and made financial wrecks on the shore of time.—Tezarkum Press.

To Probe Preachers Who Ride Train Free

WASHINGTON.—(AP)—A resolution asking the Interstate Commerce Commission to make public a list of preachers who use passes to ride trains to the Chicago political convention was introduced Monday by Representative Britten, Republican, Illinois.

In a statement he said his purpose was "to show that a great number of passes are used by ministers who only preach the gospel of the Anti-Saloon League."

They are followers of Bishop James Cannon Jr., of the Methodist church, South, who for years have been on the prohibition pay rolls.

Club Organization Planned For Farm

Nearly 9,000 Demonstrations in Agriculture—Home Work

Eight thousand nine hundred forty-three adult demonstrations are planned by the County and Home Demonstration Agents in Southwest Arkansas. These demonstrations deal with practically every phase of farm and home work in this section, and will lend useful information to thousands of farmers and farm women.

There are also 151 4-H clubs having over 5,000 members of boys and girls between the ages of 10 to 20 years, according to J. L. Wright, District Agent, and Miss Ella Pusey, District Home Demonstration Agent, of the University of Arkansas College of Agriculture Extension Service.

The Home Demonstration Agents in the district have planned to organize 182 women's clubs with an enrollment of 2,681 women. One thousand two hundred and eight women and 1,078 4-H Club girls are enrolled for poultry demonstrations, 1,550 women and 1,150 4-H Club girls will do garden work. One thousand, four hundred and fifty home demonstration club members will carry out the canning budget of fruits and vegetables suitable for their family needs, while 1,150 girls will follow the requirements in food preservation for 4-H Club girls. Demonstrations for women will be supervised by the home demonstration agents as follows: foods and nutrition, 850; child care, 110; house dress, 920; home management, 852; home dairy, 620; and home improvement, 940.

County agents of the Extension Service University of Arkansas College of Agriculture in Southwest Arkansas have planned for this year 3,291 adult demonstrations. Last year over 35,000 farmers in the district attended the demonstrations carried by farmers and supervised by these agents. These demonstrations will enable the farmers to see first hand the effects of the recommended improved practices of the subject-matter specialists of the Extension Service under their own local conditions.

Due to the confidence placed in the county agents and the great need for information in regard to the live-at-home program and the economical production of cash crops, the county agents have planned their year's work to include the following demonstrations:

Soil improvement 289, field crops 364, horticultural crops 924, beef cattle 177, dairy cattle 153, hogs 177, sheep 11, commercial poultry 97, rural engineering 244, insect and disease control of plants and animals 387.

NEW GAS TAX

a "refiner or blender." It is conceded that the producer will in turn collect from the motor car operator.

The producer likely will advance the price all along the line between the point that remits to the treasury department and the corner station, effective June 21.

However, there are many jobbers and brokers who do not manufacture gasoline, but who purchase it from the refiner and resell it. These are neither "refiners, compounders or blenders." Hence under a strict interpretation would be exempt from payment of the tax.

It is this business man who is ordering motor fuel far beyond custom for the period.

Fear has developed that this section of the industry, by stocking up now with a three or four months supply, will get a one-cent per gallon edge after the law takes effect.

The purchaser who stocks now may under sell those marketers who pay the tax or may pocket the additional cent profit per gallon.

Using the argument that extra seasonal demand has caused their product to have a greater value, refiners have increased the price of gasoline in tank cars lots. This failed to check the volume of orders from brokers, jobbers and contract buyers.

Frank Ward Opens Drug Convention

Hope Man Convenes 50th Session at Hot Springs Tuesday

HOT SPRINGS—Frank Ward of Hope, president of the Arkansas Pharmaceutical Association, which opened its 50th annual convention here Tuesday, told delegates that he wanted them to dispense with "old man depression" and enjoy themselves. The delegates were welcomed by Edward Bradley, past president, and the response was by F. E. Turner, chaplain, who also offered the invocation.

Greetings were extended by C. E. Gathright of Batesville, president of Arkansas Drug Travelers Association, which is holding its twenty-fifth annual convention in conjunction with the Golden Jubilee of the pharmaceuticalists.

Ten Years Ago Today—University of Illinois scored an overwhelming triumph in the Western Conference track and field games at Iowa City, piling up 56 6-14 points, with Iowa second at 24 1-35 points. Billy Hayes of Notre Dame set a new 100-yard dash record of 9.7 seconds.

Ten Years Ago Today—Harry Payne Whitney's Whiskaway, with a 15-pound pull in the weights, did what no other horse had ever done—beat Morvich. The great Morvich, winner of 12 straight races, including the Kentucky Derby, in his career as a 2 and 3-year-old, finished seven lengths behind Whiskaway, who took the winner's purse of $1600 for the Carleton mile at Aqueduct.

There are plenty of mystery thrillers on the market, but we have yet to see one so difficult of solution as the question, "What are the Boston Braves doing up there?"

Mrs. Sid Henry Telephone 321

The clouds of sunset fold on fold
Are purple and tawny and edged with gold.
Soft as the silence after hymn
Is the hush that falls as the light grows dim.
And the phantom feet of the shadows
glide
To the maple tops and the rivers' tide.
Not even the thought of a sound is heard
Till the dusk is thrilled by a hidden bird.
Then suddenly sings as the light
grows dim.
A wonderful, passionate vespers hymn,

There in this world where God is Songs that have nothing to do—but sing

Though it may be low under the waves of pain
They found the pearl of purest strain
Only this—it was surely best,
Shine it taught them strains so full of rest.
And showed the path to a lighted ark
Perhaps to someone lost in the dark.

'Jackie' and 'Chic' in Juvenile Plot

"When a Feller Needs a Friend" at Saenger Thursday-Friday

He can't go out on the lot to play baseball with the other kids. He can't join with them in their mud battles, their races, their games and parties. If there's a fight, he always gets the worst of it for his crippled leg has made him a moral coward.

This is the stirring characterization played by Jackie Cooper in
"When a Feller Needs a Friend," which opens at the Saenger Thursday and Friday, with the popular child actor and Charles "Chic" Sales in co-starring roles. The various adventures of Limpy, a boy whose leg brace makes him a nauticist, and his final fight to overcome a disastrous inferiority complex make this a picture which it is said will bring laughs and tears to parents and children alike.

Whereas the boy's parents, with the best intentions in the world, blundering aid in his self-abasement, the old family friend, played by Sales, has a keener conception of what will make a man out of Limpy. It is his effort to teach the boy to protect himself from the taunts of the small-town bullies which eventually brings about the picture's dramatic climax in which Limpy proves his mettle.

As the amusing conductor of an antiquated horse-car, Sales has a role which is reported to provide the story with many of its laughs while further hilarity results from the rollicking adventures of the old man and the youngster whose wide difference in age does not prevent them from being the best of comrades.

Speaker Garner in Bed Until Thursday

WASHINGTON.—(P)—Confined to his bed by bronchitis but feeling better, Speaker Garner was told Monday by his physician that he "cannot go back to work before Thursday at the earliest."

Dr. George W. Calver, House physician, said he had given this advice to the speaker, "although he is improving rapidly enough that I think there are not likely to be any additional complications."

Futrell Asks Budget Control Legislature

Paragould Chancellor Opens Campaign for Governor With Strong Speech Before Great Crowd at Pine Bluff

Futrell of Paragould opened his campaign for governor at Geisler's park Tuesday night before one of the largest political gatherings seen here in several years. The chancellor was introduced by W. V. Tompkins of Prescott.

Chancellor Futrell arrived on a special train about 6 p. m., accompanied by more than 500 residents of Paragould on dather points and a brass band. Just as the train pulled into the Missouri Pacific station, a heavy rain began to fall. However, it cleared off in a few moments.

Fifteen other candidates for state offices were introduced before Chancellor Futrell made his address. There were three or four others here but who did not speak.

Stresses Need of Economy Judge Futrell's main theme was the necessity of economy in government.

"Financially, Arkansas is in a state of collapse," he declared.
He said that during the present crisis, every dispensable activity of the state government should be suspended.

"Corruption in office and waste of resources should be stopped and costs of operating public affairs must be reduced by at least 50 per cent," he declared. "This is the task of the next administration and, if selected as governor, I pledge my word and honor to do my part in carrying out this program."

He said that necessary reforms cannot be established without co-operation of the legislature and urged the importance of electing able and honest men and women to the House and Senate.

"When we bring government expenses down to an average level with farm products, property and wages, we will have accomplished economy
—and not before," he said. "Nothing less will rescue us from our present financial follies."

He declared that if the state had properly conserved its revenues for the past few years, sufficient surplus would have accumulated to suspend tax collections for at least four years, with the exception of school, gas and automobile taxes.

"If such a result could now be had,

Interest Lags in Political Campaign

People Apparently Are Not Interested in the Various Races

Interest in the 1932 political campaign apparently is at a low ebb, judging from the size of the crowds which are reported from the various places at which candidates have spoken. In view of the fact that there is the largest field of candidates known to Arkansas in a long time, if not in history, it was believed that speakers this year would face large crowds throughout the state. The contrary, however, seems to be true and when a speaker, even in the United States Senator or governor's race draws a crowd of a few hundred people he has cause for encouragement.

For further proof of political apathy, one has but to make an effort to learn the attitude of the voters of almost any community toward the various candidates in any of the state races.
Not only is it impossible to obtain a prediction in most communities as to who will carry the largest vote in any

Camden Fights Hike in Occupation Tax

CAMDEN.—More than 200 Camden business men and taxpayers met with the City Council Monday afternoon to discuss the proposed new occupation tax. The citizens protested any increase in the occupation tax.
Mayor G. R. Haynie explained the purpose of the tax which revises the old occupation tax. A citizens committee of eight was appointed to meet with the council.

"It's BLOOD that wins a Kentucky Derby...and the Preakness"

"Speed is what gets me over the ground. But behind speed is blood—quality. Blood means heart. It means legs, conformation, disposition, wind—everything. I won the Derby in '32, as my dad 'Bubbling Over' won it in '26, because blood gave us what a Derby winner has to have—everything."
